

MCC honors Kavanaugh

Mesa Councilman Dennis Kavanaugh has been honored by Mesa Community College for his service on the Commission on Excellence in Education, which he chaired the past two years and on which he sat for 11 years.

The commission acts as a liaison between the local business community and Mesa Community College. Community and business leaders come together to assist the college in various endeavors. The membership consists of a diverse group of community representatives from throughout Mesa, whose primary purpose is to assist and advise college leadership.
